C O N T E M P L A T I O N III.

X. On the Fulfilment of SCRIPTURE, in the TEMPER and CHARACTER of all good and bad men, in all parts and ages of the world.

I. The internal character of all bad men, is painted in lively colours in the Holy Scriptures	121
1. Their inward principles and frame of heart towards God and religion	121
2. Their enmity and hatred to all good men, often breaking out into a spirit of cruel persecution	122
3. Richer and higher in outward circumstances than many good men	124
4. Have a sad inward dissatisfaction of mind, and a want of peace of conscience	125
5. The death of all wicked men awfully described in Scripture	126

RECOLLECTION

II. SCRIPTURE is fulfilled in all good men

I. Consider good men as a collective body, lower in circumstances, fewer in number, more exposed to trials, than bad men; yet, immoveably secure, and invincibly safe for eternity. Their security is wonderfully greater than their vast interest

Two things add a lustre to the surprizing providence of Christ in the security and safety of his people
1. His people have met with the most fierce and dreadful oppositions	135
The face of the kingdom of Christ in its doctrines, divines, holiness, worship, and its vital head	137
A view of the System of Socinianism	138
The face of the kingdom of Satan, corrupt doctrines, artful writers, cruel persecutors, and bloody tyrants, Satan at the head of all, with his dreadful names and horrid qualities
2. Other kingdoms and mighty empires have sunk into ruins under a far less weight, than that which has oppressed the church of Christ, i. e. the Assyrian, Babylonian, the Medo-Perfian, the Grecian, and the Roman monarchy	138
Two glorious axioms concerning final perseverance in holiness	147
The Scripture represents the church of Christ as mixed with hypocrites and meer pretenders to religion	149
The church in a great variety of states and changes	149
II The Scriptures are gloriously fulfilled in every single believer on earth	150
1. You see the word of God clearly verified in the conversion of every single sinner, and his call into the society of God's people	150
2. In the internal character, principles, and temper, of every christian towards God and man	152
3. In the imperfections, follies and corruptions, of God's people	153
4. In the exceeding great and precious promises to all believers
The nature of the promises	156
Many standing promises are always fulfilling every moment	157
Many occasional promises adapted to special cases, peculiar graces, duties, and necessities	158
5. Threat-

5. Threatenings of corrections, and paternal chastisements, are fulfilled to believers in this life	159
The nature of the threatenings described, special threatening to peculiar sins, viz. carnal security, unwatchfulness, neglect of fervent prayer, unmortified affections to the world, wilful departures from the pure doctrines of the gospel, doing violence to the conscience and the light of God in the soul	162
6. The happy death of every true believer is a striking evidence of the truth of the Bible	167
Seven Remarks on the fulfilling of the Scripture.
Remark 1. God's understanding grasped the whole system of the world, and all its affairs from eternity
Remark 2. The plan of God is all laid down in Scripture.
Remark 3. The Bible was chiefly written for the use of the church of Christ
Remark 4. Every thing laid down in Scripture will infallibly come to pass
Remark 5. The fulfilling of the Scripture is a gradual thing, and not done all at once
Remark 6. When the whole plan and work of God is executed, it will appear more beautiful and lovely than it does now; it will be more full and strong; it will stand in a more vivid and striking light to all the happy millions of mankind
Remark 7. Such a great part of the Scriptures is already fulfilled, that now we have mighty evidences, that all the rest will be fulfilled in God's own good time

On the glorious moral CHARACTER of CHRIST, the great founder of the CHRISTIAN RELIGION.

I. His TEMPER and Conduct towards God.

1. He had the deepest sense of God's presence upon his soul	182
2. He observed, and trusted his father's providence	183
3. He

3. He obeyed his father's will in a better manner than the angels	184
4. He worshipped the divine perfections in the most sublime and ardent spirit of religion	187
Here we take an ample view of the unparalleled worship of Christ	188--194
II. The TEMPER of CHRIST towards himself	194
His consideration and self-furniture, humility and wise self-valuation, meekness and quietness of spirit, contentment and self-possession, prudence and self-management, fortitude and self-confidence.
III. The TEMPER of CHRIST towards his own people and mankind
1. Love to his people was amazing	199
2. Justice and universal equity	203
The assemblage of graces and beauties in Christ.
Temperance, chastity, diligence, self-advancement, sincerity, tenderness, perseverance, zeal, beneficence or mercy in doing good, superiority to this vain world, dignity, decorum, and beauty
